

Writing

The writing in this paper is well written, though there are grammatical errors. For instance in the objective stage the bullet points should all be capitalized. Also the use of is and are should be used properly there were a few times they were used incorrectly. Plurals should be checked over as well. Other than those few mistakes everything seems to be in order and is very fluid. The topics discussed are very interesting as well and kept my attention.

References

There are the required 10 references in the paper. Although there are ten references one two had been cited in the paper. All of the references that were in text citations are clear where they came from.

Tables and Figures

In the paper there are many images which make it easy for the reader to see what the author is talking about in the sections. The four images are used correctly in what they are showing. I was about to actually visualize what what being written which for someone not from a technical standpoint would find helpful. The table that is used is showing the timeline of the project and makes sense.

Format

The format of the ultimately demonstrates how the paper should be structured in the syllabus. The formatting is also easy to follow since the author made the different sections noticeable and changed the color which made it aesthetically pleasing.

Topic

Right off the bat I knew exactly what the author was going to accomplish. It was clear and concise and most importantly interesting. Since this is an application project I am very interested to see how this website being designed in the paper will conclude. The paper also met the length requirements.

Intellectual Content

The knowledge behind the content that was presented in this paper was very well thought out. The author knew exactly what they were talking about and I can tell a lot of thought and effort went into this and the website that is being designed. If the author stays true to their plan for the programming that will be going into this without a doubt I believe they will be able to complete this project. I learned a few things in this paper and as previously stated earlier I am excited to see the outcome of the website, it is a brilliant idea.
